

I feel that the ban on cellphone use aboard planes should be maintained. Safety aside, the annoyance of so many people talking on their phones would be a disservice to a majority of passengers. Airline flights should remain a place of peace and quiet!! Too many people exhibit very poor manors when speaking on their cellphones. Lifting the ban would only create utter chaos!!